

Celebrating

THE LIFE OF

Scott Salmi

FEBRUARY 13, 1979 - MAY 29, 2024

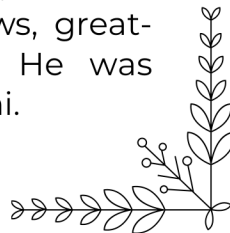

Obituary

Scott “Scotty” Eric Salmi was born in Seattle, Washington, to Synove and Kari Salmi on February 13, 1979. He was raised in Issaquah/Sammamish, Washington, where he lived most of his life; other than five years, the family lived in Oakville, Ontario, Canada.

Scott was a huge animal lover. As a child, he was often found beside his “best friends,” the family dogs, Corky (a cockapoo) and Peaches (a golden retriever). He enjoyed fishing, cooking, camping, attending concerts and monster truck shows, and was a Volkswagen lover. He also looked forward to his annual participation in the Gambler 500 in Oregon (an event that involves cleaning up trash while driving through outdoor areas). His musical tastes included everything from country to heavy metal.

Scott was known for his loyalty, thoughtfulness, heart of gold, and kindness to everyone. All who knew and loved him will miss his smile and infectious, goofy laugh.

Scott is survived by his wife, Joice Kakenya Barta; mother, Synove Salmi; sister, Jennifer Nilsen; brother, Tom Kristoffersen, and sister, Monika Samek, as well as many nieces, nephews, great-nieces, a great-nephew, and cousins. He was preceded in death by his father, Kari Salmi.
