

"I carry them with me. What they would have thought and said and done. Make them a part of who I am. So even though they're gone from the world, they're never gone from me."
THE THIRTEENTH DOCTOR, DR. WHO

OUR SINCERE THANKS

Our family would like to express our deepest gratitude for the incredible outpouring of love, support, and kindness we have received during this heartbreaking time. Your messages, memories, visits, meals, and countless gestures of compassion have lifted us in ways words cannot fully express.

We are profoundly touched by how our community has come together to honor Alex's life. Each story shared, each hug given, and each act of kindness has reminded us of the light he brought into the world—and how that light continues to shine through all of you.

Thank you for standing with us, grieving with us, and celebrating Alex's pure and generous heart. Your love has been a true source of comfort and strength.

WITH LOVE AND GRATITUDE,
THE HARRISON FAMILY

THE LIFE OF

ALEXANDER HARRISON

OBITUARY

DECEMBER 17, 2009 – OCTOBER 28, 2025

Beloved son of Michael and Leah (née Johnson) Harrison. Cherished brother of Luella and Teddy. Treasured grandson of Audrey (née Hautala) and the late David Harrison, and of Susan (née Zastrow) and Dean Johnson. Loving nephew of Sarah (Thomas) Garner, Luke (Shauna) Johnson, and the late Jesse Johnson. Alex will also be deeply missed by his cousin, extended family, and the many dear friends who were touched by his kindness and joyful spirit.

Born in Wauwatosa, Wisconsin, on December 17, 2009, Alex was an exceptional young man whose caring heart, bright mind, and gentle nature left a lasting impression on everyone he met. His curiosity and genuine interest in others made him a favorite among teachers, classmates, and family alike. Alex possessed a remarkable intelligence—he loved learning for its own sake, asking thoughtful questions, and finding wonder in the details of the world around him. His sharp sense of humor could light up any room, bringing laughter and ease to those fortunate enough to know him.

Alex had a wide range of passions and an eagerness to explore them all. He loved history, nature, and art, but his greatest joys were found in music and theater. A talented cellist who also taught himself to play guitar and other string instruments, Alex filled his home with beautiful music. He discovered a love for theater in fourth grade and went on to shine in prominent roles in middle and high school productions. On stage, he came alive—his energy, creativity, and passion inspiring everyone around him. In quieter moments, he could often be found in his room, strumming his acoustic guitar and singing softly to himself or to friends.

Alex's warmth, compassion, and authenticity were gifts to all who knew him. He brought light and laughter to every space he entered, and his gentle spirit will continue to live on in the hearts of those he touched.
